

LIBRARY - BULLETIN

Recently Renewed Journal Titles

International Journal of Environment and Waste Management

It is a refereed reference and authoritative source of information in the field of environmental and waste management. The Library also subscribes its sister publications International journal of environment and pollution and International journal of environmental technology and management. These journals provide a comprehensive coverage of environmental issues and focus on both engineering/technical and management solutions.

The Marine Scientist

GC1000.M38

It makes essential reading for those working in marine science and technology disciplines, including oceanographers, marine chemists, geoscientists, hydrographers, ecologists, marine management and policy makers. The journal contains news, research, analysis, debates and views from the scientific community, reader letters, interviews, job advertisements, and marine science conferences worldwide.

International Journal of Learning and Media

It provides an international forum for scholars, researchers and practitioners to explore the relationship between emerging forms of media and learning, in a variety of forms and settings. The journal retains the peer review process of a traditional academic journal and also provides opportunities for more topical and polemical writing, for visual and multi-media presentations, and for online dialogues.

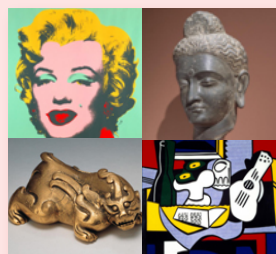

Blueprint

NA1.B58

It is the leading magazine for architecture and design and regarded by many around the world as the original design magazine. Published monthly, it is produced with photography and illustration of the highest standard. The magazine takes a parallel approach to the different design disciplines, reflecting a belief that fashion, product, furniture and architectural design can share ideas.
